WRITE September Faculty Development

“Evaluation Pathway to Residency – How preceptors are an integral part of a student’s journey to becoming a physician”

Thursday, September 12 and Friday, September 13, 2019
South Campus Center, Seattle, WA

Thursday, September 12, 2019

12:00 – 12:30 PM  Welcome / Lunch and Updates
South Campus Center
3rd Floor Lobby (Registration) | Room 301 (Presentations)

12:30 – 1:30 PM  TRUST Curriculum and the SOM
Kim Kardonsky, MD
TRUST Director, Office of Rural Programs
Mark Whipple, MD
Assistant Dean for Curriculum, UWSOM

In this session, larger curricular changes will be introduced and tied into the TRUST curriculum. Topics that will be addressed include TRUST and its relationship with Ecology of Health in Medicine (EHM), RUOP and summer experiences, remediation and Step 1 support and other TRUST changes.

1:30 – 3:00 PM  Implicit Bias in Medical Education
Amanda Kost, MD, M.Ed
Associate Professor, Family Medicine
Joshua Jauregui, MD
Assistant Professor, Emergency Medicine

Faculty implicit bias can significantly impact the clinical learning environment for medical students. In this session, we describe the origins of bias and compare and contrast forms of bias. We will identify manifestations of bias in clinical and medical education environments. We will also discuss and practice strategies to mitigate and address bias in clinical learning environments.
Campus Tour

Do you want to get a nice leg stretch before dinner and learn more about the UW campus at the same time? We are offering a guided campus tour, led by a UW undergraduate student, that will take you to the most loved and important sites in the center of campus: Drumheller Fountain, Mary Gates Hall, Red Square, Suzzallo Library, the Liberal Arts Quadrangle (aka, the Quad) and Denny Hall. The tour will begin at the Husky Union Building (HUB) and conclude at Sylvan Grove.

3:00 – 4:30 PM

We will head up to the HUB at 3:00pm, with the tour beginning at 3:25pm. Our walk will conclude at 4:30pm and a member of the Rural Programs team will meet you at Sylvan Grove to walk you down to the Waterfront Activities Center (WAC) for dinner at 5:00pm.

This presentation will describe the PRIME rubric, how to use it to evaluate students, and how grades are compiled in IM.

Writing Evaluation Comments and Translating them into Letters of Recommendation
Jeanne Cawse-Lucas, MD
Associate Professor, Family Medicine

10:40 – 11:55 AM  This presentation will review best practices for writing formative and summative comments, and offer a strategy for building letters of recommendation from those comments.

12:00 – 12:30 PM  Lunch (Provided)
The Education Process: Teaching and Remediation
Heidi Combs, MD, MS
Associate Professor, Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences

Jesse Markman, MD, MBA
Assistant Professor, Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences

12:30 – 2:00 PM
Teaching medical students is fun and rewarding but sometimes things can get off course! During our session we will briefly review key features of the teaching process. This will lay the foundation for intervention(s) when the education process is not running smoothly. We will introduce a framework to utilize when trying to determine if there is a problem. Once it is established that there is a problem, a step by step process on how to intervene to get the learner back on track will be discussed. Come prepared to share challenging situations you have experienced with the group!

WRITE Program Updates and Closing Remarks
Larry Kirven, MD
WRITE Director, Office of Rural Programs

2:00 – 2:20 PM
Danielle Gunder (Bienz), M.Ed
LIC Education Specialist, Office of Rural Programs

We thank you for joining us for the 2019 WRITE Faculty Development Conference! Please complete the evaluation in your conference packet or on Google forms so we can continue to improve our program for future years.
